- 79.0.196 J. McArthur (Monash University), "Place-names in the Knossos tablets: identification and location". Cf. 73.2.1. Dr. McArthur has submitted the following statement: "In this thesis 81 words in the Knossos tablets are accepted as certain or plausible place-names, while another 17 are placed in the category of doubtful place-names. Because of the occurrence of two of the 81 names on the inscribed stirrup-jars found at Thebes, namely wa-to (TH Z 846+) and *o-du-ru (in the ethnic form o-du-ru-wi-jo TH Z 839), the study involves further consideration of the jars' likely Cretan origin. Additional support for the philological argument for a west Cretan location for these places is provided by the results of the application of non-metric multidimensional scaling analysis to Knossos tablet data. This finding is not incompatible with the corrected spectrographic analysis of Catling and Jones (Archaeometry, 19, 1977, 137-146)" (letter of 7 October, 1979).
